

IMPORTANT NEW INFORMATION FOR JUNE 2013 FIRST-YEAR LAW STUDENTS' EXAMINATION

Admittance Tickets

Applicants must print their admittance tickets through their Admissions Status Screens; admittance tickets will not be sent through the mail. Approximately eight weeks prior to the examination, admittance tickets will become available for printing after the State Bar's Office of Admissions has determined an applicant's eligibility to take the examination. Applicants must present their admittance tickets and government-issued IDs at the test centers.

When applicants register online, their Admissions Status Screens are automatically created. An applicant who submits a paper application should set up an online account by clicking on "Future Lawyers" on the State Bar's website, selecting "Check your admissions status" on the right hand side and clicking on create an account.

Laptop Certification Deadline

Applicants who signed up to use laptop computers for the examination must download the security software (SofTest) and certify their laptop computers with ExamSoft no later than Friday, June 14, 2013. The certification process cannot be started until applicants have been advised that their admittance tickets are available for printing. SofTest will not be available for downloading after June 14, 2013. Applicants who have not completed the certification process by the deadline for doing so will have to handwrite their answers.
